Program Description:
The Comprehensive Crisis Management Trainer Recertification program is a 16-hour training designed to give trainers updated knowledge, skills, and information needed to instruct the Comprehensive Crisis Management (CCM) training program. The CCM Trainer Recertification class is required annually for instructors to maintain their CCM instructor certification. CCM is an 8 hour program consisting of two components: 1) The lecture and discussion component focuses on assessment and prevention techniques as well as crisis management skills. It helps employees to assess whether a potentially dangerous situation is developing and how to prevent a crisis. 2) A physical demonstration and practice component teaches physical techniques for movement, escape, and emergency safety interventions that are effective and safe for staff and the aggressor. These techniques do not rely on speed, strength, or surprise; instead, participants learn to use natural body movement in effective ways.

Educational Objectives:
At the conclusion of this program, participants should be able to:
- Identify a variety of reasons for challenging behaviors to occur.
- Understand the impact of emotional trauma and the importance of providing Trauma Informed Care.
- Recognize the importance of ongoing self assessment.
- Understand the importance of developing a therapeutic relationship.
- Identify key factors in the prevention of crisis situations.
- Discuss responsibilities necessary in the safe resolution of crisis situations.
- Perform appropriate physical escape and emergency safety intervention techniques.

Target Audience:
Individuals with significant clinical experience who will provide the physical and verbal CCM training to their staff members. This program is for individuals who have already been certified as CCM trainers.
